The DIC has the facilities like consultation and counseling room, officer room and voluminous library and separate telephone lines to receive poison information calls. A number of CD ROM databases such as DRUGDEX & MARTINDALE systems and POISINDEX & INDENTIDEX Systems.
Herbal Garden
Herbs are valued for their prolific medicinal properties since ancient times. We have a well maintained medicinal garden in our campus with varieties of medicinal herbs to disseminate their therapeutic qualities to the students.

Animal House
College maintains separate animal house. As per CPSEA guidelines our animal house can easily be termed as animal block and is comprised of rooms where the animals are housed and utilised for different experiments. We always have rats, mice of different strains, guinea pigs and rabbits. There is also a tank where the frogs are housed.
We ensure a quality environment in which a professional team of skilled personalities provide a broad based educational experience which acknowledged both the need of society and the potential of students. The college is headed by Director. The faculty comprises of five departments: Pharmacology, Pharmaceutics, Pharmacognosy, Pharmaceutical Chemistry and Pharmaceutical Analysis. The college is supported by required laboratory staff, library staff and administrative staff. The college also has visiting faculty and experts from industry and other R&D institutions across the state. Institute encourages a better faculty student relationship through various activities throughout the academic year.
India is known for its multi-layered and multi-cultural society, several communities co-exist in India, and within these, several economic classes. Fortunately, our bright and intelligent students come from all communities and all classes. However, within the confines of an academic environment where a serious academic stream is being pursued, a unifying factor is needed to bind students from all backgrounds together.
Counselling
Arrangements have been made to offer personalized counselling to students should they feel the need, as talking through issues at such times can often help identify and resolve matters before they become crisis.

To enable the students in making judicious selection suitable to their personal aptitudes in career opportunities, they are provided professional guidance by MGIP.

The pharmacy profession is in transitional state. The health care delivery pattern has been completely transformed and has acquired an altogether different image than what we have been observing traditionally. The present of pharmacy is not merely dispensing the medication, but in the provision of relevant drug information and drug therapy recommendation to the people in the society. Indian pharma industry which has registered a global pharmaceutical market with export worth US Dollars 2.6 billion and domestic sales amounting to over US Dollars 4 million. The ever expanding pharma's industrial and practice sectors need clinically and technologically trained pharmacy professionals who can face global challenges and compete with the multinationals. The pharmacist is no longer a mere dispenser of drugs but has assumed a more crucial role in medicine management and as overall health care programmer.

The institute has a well-organized, inspirational career service cell. The cell boasts of two large placement halls capable of accommodating 500 students at a time. The career advisors are so experienced that they provide valuable guidance and detailed advice on every aspect of the job application process, from application forms covering letters to mock interviews. They also try to expand the number and improve the quality of jobs available. As a result, reputed organizations select our students.
